

Jocelyn Taylor

Manager, International CCUS Policy
Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water
Australia

Ms Jocelyn Taylor has over 20 years' experience in the Australian Public Service working in a range of different occupations from debt recovery, compensation claims management, international stakeholder engagement, technical work for the National Radioactive Waste Facility Taskforce and a policy advisor in a ministerial office. Jocelyn currently leads the International Carbon Capture Use and Storage Policy team in the Australian Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water. The International CCUS Policy team aims to strengthen Australia's engagement with other like-minded countries on CCUS matters. Jocelyn's team works closely with the Domestic CCUS Policy team who manages Australia's domestic CCUS policy issues and programs. Jocelyn completed a Master of Public Administration through the Australian - New Zealand School of Government in 2017.
